NOTICE TO CUSTOMERS

(Notice No. 79 2019)

DISQUALIFIED DIRECTORS LETTERS

The Companies and Intellectual Property Commission (CIPC) recently issued letters notifying affected Companies and Close Corporations about the disqualified directors or members who are still listed as active in their entities. The CIPC has a duty in terms of Section 69(11B) of the Companies Act, 71 of 2008, to notify each company and close corporation of any director or member of that entity, whose names appear on the Disqualified Director's Register (DDR).

It has come to our attention that the list erroneously included directors or members who have been rehabilitated and as a result letters were also issued to the companies and close corporations of rehabilitated directors or members.

This notice serves as a notification to the companies / close corporations that received letters where rehabilitated directors or members are indicated to ignore the letters, where applicable. Should any person, company or close corporation not be sure of the status (disqualified or rehabilitated) of a director or member, please feel free to submit a query to the CIPC to obtain clarification.

CIPC would like to apologise for the inconvenience this might have caused to the affected directors/members and entities.

Yours Sincerely

.....

 Adv. Rory Voller
CIPC Commissioner
